SENATE INTERPRETS OHIO RELIEF LAWS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O May 3—Diversion of gasoline taxes and motor license fees for relief purposes must be limited to amounts collected since April 5 when emergency legislation authorizing cities to use the funds became operative

This interpretation of the law was given by the senate relief commission when it met last night to consider several applications for authority to divert the funds. Some of the cities, it was found had figured their applications on the year's total collection

But the commission decided that, excluding the amounts collected before April 5, only 75 per cent of the year's estimated total of gasoline taxes and not more than 15 per cent of the license fees could be diverted.

CALIFORNIA VOTES TODAY

Result To Have Vital Bearing on Democratic Presidential Contest

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE Md May 3 Joseph I France gentleman farmer senator from Maryland a dozen years ago and aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination has settled his home state argument with President Hoover and emerged second best

The President carried yesterday's preferential primary by nearly 10 000 votes on the basis of practically complete returns gathered from one of the most apathetic contests in years

Unofficial tabulation from 1 26[illegible] voting places out of 1 585 gave President Hoover 25 965 France 16 518 and an uninstructed delegation 1 275 votes It was the first out and out contest between the two

The apathy which featured the voting in the primary was brought about by the fact that Baltimore city had a local question which took statewide attention repeal of the 200 year old Sunday blue laws which were swamped in an avalanche that surprised the most sanguine liberal

Both Parties Rush to Defense of Treasury Head After Charges

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 3—The bonus hearing was [illegible] verted today into a dispute [illegible] which Secretary Mills hotly flayed the incorporation of a provision in the tax bill under which the secretary of the treasury would profit by revaluation of his father's estate

Representative Patman Democrat of Texas advocate of full payment of the bonus charged before the ways and means committee that the secretary would get millions and said the action would amount to an inside burglary of the treasury

Democrats and Republicans of the committee came alike to the defense of Mills

Acting Chairman Crisp [illegible] the secretary declined to [illegible] on the provision because he would be a beneficiary under it [illegible] Republican [illegible] Doughton Democrat [illegible] Carolina and Chindblom [illegible] of Illinois joined in [illegible] of the secretary

When this bill was pending before the committee it was not suggested that the date set in the retroactive provision would permit the revaluation of Mr Mills father's estate Patman said

Members of the committee objected immediately to Patman's testimony and Patman withdrew his criticism

FIVE MEN SOUGHT IN ILLINOIS KIDNAPING

Quartet Believed Able To Shed Light on Gustav Miller Abduction.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 3—Five men were sought in Chicago today on request of the Joliet, Ill., authorities and in the belief their capture may throw some light on the kidnaping of 22-year-old Gustav Miller, son of a wealthy Joliet wholesale grocer

A private investigation was being pushed at the same time from Joliet, by the father, Max Miller but little was known of its progress as he kept his counsel

Deputy Chief of Detectives Walter Storms, upon receiving a telephonic tip from the Joliet police last night that Miller's kidnapers may be found at a West Roosevelt road drug store, raced there with a squad but found five men, who had used three pay telephones for a half hour, had just left.

The authorities expressed belief the calls had been made to the Miller home at Joliet. The missing young man disappeared last Thursday and it was said [illegible] ransom has been demanded.

CAPONE SLATED FOR IMMEDIATE TRIP TO PRISON

Gangster Will Leave for Pen at Leavenworth Tonight.

AL GIVES UP HOPE

Concedes Defeat, but Insists Long Sentence Is Unfair.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO May 3 The last obstacle to prevent the removal of Scarface Al Capone to a federal penitentiary was removed today when the United States circuit court of appeals vacated a writ of supersedeas which had held the big gangster in the county jail while he appealed his conviction for evading income taxes He will start the long deferred trip to Leavenworth prison tonight

The appellate court vacated its writ after it had received a certified copy of the United States supreme court's decision yesterday refusing to review Capone's case

A mittimus ordering Capone to prison has been prepared

Trip Kept Secret

Marshal H C W Laubenheimer kept his plans for the prison trip secret saying he wanted no crowds or interference

Capone giving up hope at last packed his belongings soon after arising at the county jail

The gang leader has been in jail since Oct 24 1931 when Federal Judge James H Wilkerson sentenced him to 11 years fined him $50 000 and refused to grant him bail The time Capone has spent in jail does not apply on his prison term

Marshal Laubenheimer had 17 other federal prisoners to be taken to Leavenworth and he said Capone would receive the same treatment en route as the other men

Capone Furious

Meanwhile Capone spoke his mind

It's not fair he is reported to have said I'm the victim of public clamor My sentence should have been two and one half years but just because I went to a few baseball games they made it 11 years

The short sentence Capone referred to was reported to have been recommended by federal prosecutors in consideration of Capone's plea of guilty which he subsequently withdrew when Judge James H Wilkerson declined to be bound by any agreement That was last summer In October Capone went on trial and was convicted Ever since then he has been in the county jail

Capone's mother was with him when the news came from Washington He refused to see newspaper men but jail attaches said he was furious

May See Henchmen

If Capone goes to Leavenworth he will be in the same prison with his reputed business manager Jake Guzik who is doing time also as an income tax law violator Domenico Roberto liquor dealer and Capone ally convicted of violating the immigration laws was sentenced to Leavenworth yesterday

Frank Nitti reputed 'enforcer' of the Capone gang, recently finished his sentence for income tax violation With Capone, they planned to take 17 other federal prisoners convicted of various offenses

BILLS SPEEDED BY CONGRESS

House, Senate Move Quickly To Enact Measures Affecting Massie Case

ASK PARDON OF SLAYERS

New Legislation Would Prevent Freeing of Hawaiian Attackers

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 3 Efforts to prevent a jury disagreement from freeing the four men charged with attacking Mrs Thalia Massie in Honolulu were renewed today in congress

A bunch of bills affecting the case were taken up for action by the judiciary committee of the house Its chairman Representative Sumners Democrat of Texas was determined to speed the senate bill which will block a possible legislative escape for four men charged with the attack on Mrs Massie

It took the senate five minutes yesterday to pass that bill

The legislation repeals the law under which two successive jury disagreements in Hawaii criminal cases set the defendants free

It was a disagreement in the first trial which had a sequel of violent death for the fifth defendant and the conviction of Mrs Massie's husband mother and two navy enlisted men for this killing

Unless the bill is enacted before the second trial begins another disagreement may free the defendants, and possibly lead to further violence in the islands

Along with this bill was one by Representative Crisp of Georgia, under which congress would summarily and unconditionally pardon the four who were convicted of avenging Mrs Massie's wrong Other bills planned milder action

Meanwhile Representative Thatcher Republican of Kentucky was rapidly obtaining signatures to a petition requesting that Governor Judd grant a prompt and unconditional pardon for the four Many house leaders were among the first to sign

... little change from ... oils, and some of the leaders such as U. S. Steel and American Telephone held up well. The entire market rose a point or so in the first hour, but this was lost later, and a number of shares declined 2 to 3 points, including American Can, J. C. Penney, Lehman Corp., Safeway Stores, Western Union, Columbian Carbon, Hershey, Coca Cola, Drug, Inc., and a few others. Declines of a point or so were numerous.

Special liquidation, such as the cleaning up of bank loans on security collateral, was believed in brokerage quarters to be playing an important part in the continued heaviness of the market. Selling of Western Union was linked to the proposed federal tax on communications, but American Telephone held up better than it did yesterday. Weakness of such issues as Penney and Lehman Corp. was said in sources close to the companies to reflect special selling, rather than new developments within the organizations.

Oils were firm for a time, notably Royal Dutch and Standard of N. J., in response to news of the arrival of Russian oil chiefs in this country to attend an international conference in an effort to end cut-throat competition in world markets. Furthermore preliminary figures on the last week's domestic crude production indicated a substantial decline. Standard Oil of California reported net for the first quarter of 22 cents a share, as reduced from 33 cents in the like period of last year. There was a notable lifting of recent pressure against Royal Dutch in foreign markets.

DUST STORMS BOOST WHEAT

Prices in Chicago Pit Show Early Upward Trend; Corn Steady.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 3—Influenced by reports of dust storms in Kansas, wheat showed an upward trend early today. Liverpool confirmed purchases of wheat by Spain, opening at ⅛ off to ⅛ up, wheat later rose all around. Corn started at ⅛ decline to a shade advance and subsequently held near the initial limits, with May establishing a new low price record since 1896.

Upturns in wheat prices gained momentum after announcement of monthly unofficial crop reports. The average of the private estimates on 1932 domestic winter wheat yield was 463,000,000 bushels, whereas general expectance had been for an average of 470,000,000. The average forecast of 463,000,000 compared also with the government April estimate of 455,000,000 and with a ten-year average of 555,-000,000.

Winter wheat production by states this season as estimated in one of the unofficial summaries, was Kansas, 93,000,000; Nebraska 33,000,000; Oklahoma 43,000,000; Texas 33,000,000; Colorado 4,000,000; Illinois 24,000,000; Indiana 24,000,-000, Ohio 30,000,000. The same summary indicated 1932 spring wheat seeding as 10,565,000 acres, compared with 13,910,000 in 1931 and 21,629,000 in 1930. Corn and oats rallied slightly with wheat, but only after all deliveries of corn had reached a new low on the 1932 corp.

Provisions were steadied by firmness of hog values.

COLLEGE FIGHTERS IN AMATEUR BOUTS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 3—Fight managers, connoisseurs of ring flesh, shake their heads when they talk of college fighters and their chances of gaining fame as professionals, despite the recent successes of Steve Hamas, Penn State alumnus.

"They lack something," they insist. "Not heart, maybe, but just general toughness. Education softens them, leaves them too gentle for the fight game."

But just the same, most of the managers will be down front when the sturdy delegation from the college ranks swings into action at the opening of the annual national amateur championships in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

The standout of the lot, on past performances, is the big Irish tackle from Yale, John Kilcullen, son of a wealthy New York contractor. Kilcullen, with a perfect fighting name, scales around 160. He has never been beaten. Jimmy Dee of Rice Institute comes north with a fine reputation.

GOLDEN RULED CLUB TO PRESENT SHOW

The Golden Ruled athletic club will present a boxing show Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. Thirty-two rounds of fighting are on the card. The program will be as follows:

Johnny Hostetter vs. Skinny Anderson, four rounds; Red Bennett vs. K. O. Kelly, four rounds; Joe Sanauta vs. Marty Dine, four rounds; Charlie Caprino vs. Chuck Fard, four rounds; Frankie Chiamar vs. Jimmie Gore, three rounds; Joe Caprino vs. Louis Sprocco, three rounds, and Bob Debolt vs. Joe Chizmar, three rounds. There will also be a battle royal.

Opposition to the races was led by the Portage county citizens' league, a meeting of which was called for tonight to prepare plans for prosecuting the fight. Leaders of the league considered the possibility of appealing to Gov. George White.

To Postpone Fight.

Prices Record-breakingly Low!

Never in Goodyear experience—never in all tire history—have the prices of Goodyear Tires been as low as they are today. Don't try to guess them by what you last paid for tires. They're 50% lower than they were five years ago—31% lower than in 1929. And your money today buys the handsomest, toughest longest-wearing Goodyear All-Weather ever built. Think of that, and ask yourself: Why buy any second-choice tire when first-choice costs no more!

"DON'T LET 'EM KID YOU"

ONE of the two main reasons why more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind has always been safety.

Other tire-makers know this. They know it so well that in their natural eagerness for sales they are tempted to claim safety too.

But there's a long jump between claiming safety on paper and building it into rubber.

Ridges, grooves, knobs on the side of a tire may be ornamental, but they're about as useful as the buttons on a coat sleeve.

IF YOU want grip instead of slip in the tire you buy, there's just one place to look for it.

Look at the center of the tread, where it contacts the road.

That is where other tires put continuous sled-runner ribs of rubber. That is where Goodyear puts the big, thick, deep-cut, sure-gripping blocks of the All-Weather Tread.

MARK this difference well—for it can mean to you the choice between coasting helplessly into an accident—or stopping safely when you want brakes and tires to grip tight and hold fast.

This year, Goodyear has made the world's best known safety tread even better, by combining safety and silence in the new Noiseless Non-Skid All-Weather Tread.

Don't let anybody kid you. If you want safety in the tires you buy, get safety you can see.

• • •

Buy Goodyear Tires with the All-Weather Tread—they have traction in the tread-center, where it belongs!

What tire is best?

A nation-wide vote covering every state, shows a preference for Goodyears 2½ times that of the second tire, and five times the average preference for all other makes

Why buy a second-choice tire when FIRST-choice costs no more?

REALLY IT'S INTERNAL

YOUR breath comes through your mouth, not always from it! No matter how effective a mouthwash may be, it can't change a Bad Breath that starts in the stomach!

And in a majority of cases, Bad Breath does arise in the digestive tract Poisons gather in the system—fermenting, spreading To rid yourself of unpleasant breath, you must keep your body internally clean! You must clear away constipation and cleanse your system of its toxins and wastes.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why is this vital question so much avoided by other cigarettes?

O. K. AMERICA TUNE IN ON LUCKY STRIKE — 60 modern minutes with the world's finest dance orchestras, and famous Lucky Strike news features, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N.B.C. networks.

EVER since Lucky Strike created that special process for purifying fine tobacco and told the full facts about cigarette smoking—the industry has been in an uproar. For Lucky Strike has dared to mention things that were considered "taboo" in the cigarette trade.

You may have noticed a striking avoidance generally of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker inhales some part of the smoke he draws out of a cigarette.

... it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it gives you the protection you want . . . because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

GREAT CAST PLAYS IN SHOW OPENING TODAY AT PALACE

What a cast was selected for This Is the Night which opened today at the Palace for a three day run. Lily Damita Charlie Ruggles Roland Young Thelma Todd and a newcomer Cary Grant are featured.

The title sounds much better than the play Pouche from which it was adapted. It's about a let's just pretend bride on a make believe honeymoon—pursued by three persistent suitors.

Thelma Todd was a New England school teacher before she won a contest and went west. Miss Damita made the French production of 'One Hour With You' the MacDonald Chevalier fame. Last season she was a hit in the stage production Sons O' Guns.

NEW SHREDDED BISCUITS CONTAIN IRON AND VITAMIN B

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit Certified for Food Value by Philadelphia Laboratory

Local grocers are featuring an improved shredded biscuit which contains both iron and Vitamin B. Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits are made by a special process known as "pressure cooking," which retains the full food value of the whole wheat. In fact, the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia certifies each package. "Pressure cooking" likewise gives the biscuits a finer flavor and makes it easier to digest.

The new Kellogg's biscuits are also toasted on both top and bottom—not just one side. Naturally, they are much crisper and tastier, as well as more appetizing in appearance.

The biscuits are likewise a more convenient, economical size—two just fit the cereal bowl. And there are 15 to the package instead of the usual dozen.

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits are very popular for breakfast—and are finding increasing favor for lunch, children's suppers and late snacks. Especially enjoyable with fruits or sweetened with honey.

You can easily identify this improved cereal by the name Kellogg's, and the familiar red-and-green package. Sold by grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

NANCY CARROLL NEW ADDITION TO REBELS

Fourth Film Star at Odds with Employers, Cause Not Disclosed

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 3.— The ranks of insurgent motion picture artists today included the red haired Nancy Carroll.

The nature of Miss Carroll's difference with Paramount studio was not disclosed although she has been off salary from the studio for several weeks as a result of disagreements.

Miss Carroll is the latest of four film artists at odds with their employers. Marlene Dietrich, James Cagney and Joseph von Sternberg previously announced severance of relations with their studios.

Von Sternberg, returning to Hollywood from New York last night, said he would never again direct a picture for Paramount.

Miss Dietrich met Von Sternberg at the railroad station and left with him in his automobile. She refused to make a statement.

Miss Carroll, in private life Mrs Bolon Mallory, was reported en route to Hollywood today from New York to confer with Paramount.

Discover Slight Error in Naming 650-Pound Sea Cow

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 3.—It was Minnie that came to town yesterday in a private express car from Florida. It was Barnacle Bill, a male 650-pound sea cow, that was installed in the Shedd aquarium with the help of a truck, a derrick and twenty men.

Reports from Miami were that the big mammal, known as a manatee or sea cow, was named Minnie, but after it had been unloaded from the car in which it made the trip in a canvass tank it was found that it was a male.

It was harpooned off Miami but the harpoon wound has healed and unless it develops a delicate constitution like its predecessor, which died last December, Bill, now 5, should live to be about 50 years old.

Is Roosevelt Checked?

Perhaps Major John S. Cohen [illegible] Atlanta's new junior senator [illegible] not to talk about politics. At any rate it was the major [illegible] who [illegible] ably scratched his head last week and wondered out loud what the sudden dissatisfaction with his candidate's views and record was based on. "During many recent visits to New York the new Georgia senator admitted "and during the recent visits to the South of many of those who are now so critical of Governor Roosevelt I heard nothing but praise for his efficiency, character and personality. Can he have changed so much and so soon?"

Mr. Roosevelt hasn't changed, nor can it be said that the public has changed. He simply has failed to catch popular fancy. [illegible] with everything that normally favors a candidate—name, position, appearance, wealth and reputation—he has been unable to offer the most important asset of all, which for lack of a better name may be called political attraction. Walter Lippmann, who has been unfavorable to the Roosevelt candidacy from the first, wrote in his widely read column recently: "Mr. Roosevelt does not ring true." This has been the judgment of the great majority of Democratic insiders. It has now been confirmed by the urban masses of the east.

This is not Mr. Roosevelt's fault so much as his misfortune, though there [illegible] the possibility that popular fancy, always changing, may veer to him in time to assist him in his ambitions. For the present, however, he must be satisfied with what votes he can get by political maneuvering, in the densely populated area roughly designated as the northeast quarter of the United States. It's no credit to his vote-getting power that those who know him best like him least. Franklin D. Roosevelt has not been checked; he stalled. That's the answer, Major Cohen.

Discussion of atheism and communism at a Marion church meeting suggests the thought that about the most effective way of combatting these doctrines is to attack the conditions which contribute to their advancement.

The Best Peace Argument

Arguments for peace have a strange way of collapsing in the presence of reality. Japan's decision to take action in China assisted a suspicion that idealism never will be able to overcome war. Reality—something as tangible as an exploding shell or a maimed body—is needed.

Pocketbook stands next to pride in [illegible] times when national matters are being [illegible]. It is not unreasonable to presume, therefore, that since pride and pocketbook are the actual causes for war, it may be possible to discourage war makers by showing them that neither is satisfied when the war is over.

Particularly is the pocketbook a vulnerable point for a successful attack, [illegible] by far than pride, which has a disconcerting way of adjusting itself to all [illegible] in case of attack. Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, head of the veterans [illegible], has given the pocketbook argument [illegible] the house ways and means committee [illegible].

He pointed out that by 1945 [illegible] expenditures on World war veterans would equal the cost of the war. The government has spent about $6,000,000,000 on World war veterans today, he said. If we continue at the present rate without change in law, the government will have spent $21,000,000,000 [illegible] or the cost of the war.

Included in his testimony were equally staggering figures on the cost of the bonus law, the ill fated attempt of a grateful nation to repay through its government some small part of its debt of gratitude. He pointed out what had been forgotten, with close to disastrous results, that the value of the adjusted service compensation certificates is their value in 1945, not now. They were intended as insurance policies, but the intention has been forgotten. Veterans demand their money.

This is the pocketbook argument against war. Its disastrously expensive. The United States never knew before the World war, however, exactly how expensive it could be. Now it is finding out, and the process will not be without certain benefits. The child who has been burned dreads [illegible].

The two western governors who [illegible] a dawn-to-dusk flight across the continent failed. But at least they tried, thus setting a figurative example for other officials who lack the nerve and initiative to tackle difficult undertakings.

An automobile with no one at the wheel ran away on a street here but no damage was done, which might lead to the belief that property would be safer if more machines were without drivers.

She Never Grew "Old."

[illegible] youth is receiving [illegible] Probably never [illegible] there been [illegible] women occupying [illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] the governors and [illegible] senators [illegible] state [illegible] two women writers of [illegible] popular fiction are [illegible] members of the [illegible] and young [illegible] woman who [illegible] notable success at [illegible] in what were once regarded [illegible] mental immaturity no longer [illegible] wonder.

[illegible] the career of Mrs. A[illegible] Van Sickle, who died Sunday [illegible] at the age of 86, ranks as one [illegible] of the ordinary.

All [illegible] evidence of unusual ability [illegible] and although her [illegible] one of vigor and activity she [illegible] prominence until during the [illegible] until that time she was known [illegible] this section of Ohio for her con[illegible] newspapers and her participation [illegible] public affairs. But outside [illegible] she was virtually unknown.

[illegible] the three score and [illegible] span of life Mrs. [illegible] entered upon the most notable [illegible]. Since then she earned [illegible] statewide prominence and com[illegible] admiration with her [illegible] of mind. Not only her [illegible] written and oral expression of thought was amazing but her seemingly unlimited energy and remarkable understanding of human affairs were equally remarkable.

Marie Dressler, the beloved star of motion pictures, would be interested in knowing about Mrs. Van Sickle. Miss Dressler, past 60, declares that she is now in the best part of her life. She scoffs at those who lose interest and abandon hope of future accomplishment when considerably past the half century mark. The quitter, she asserts, is the only person who can be charged as old in measuring life's real values.

No more striking or convincing evidence to substantiate Miss Dressler's theory that the last years can be made the best could be found than in the record left by Mrs. Van Sickle, especially from the last decade of her career.

Three Killed

Those who are interested in the conduct of this country's foreign affairs read with interest that marines leading detachments of Nicaraguan national guardsmen succeeded in avenging the death of three comrades by killing three insurrectionists recently. Previously the insurrectionists had succeeded in ambushing a patrol of Nicaraguan guardsmen and marines. In addition to three Americans [illegible] guardsmen were slain in that encounter.

An insurrectionist may be defined as a kind of super patriot who believes that his country would be better off under native control than under the protection and advice of the United States. He is a [illegible] fellow at his best and usually he is at his worst. He makes Central American duty a pleasure not unmixed with grave danger for the young men enlisted in the marine corps.

Since he stands in the way of orderly procedure he must be prepared to be killed. His reaction to his situation [illegible] an entirely natural [illegible]. He therefore [illegible] the guardsmen and their [illegible] officers to the job and makes [illegible] a little easier by avenging it in advance. [illegible] have to fight for his hope that some day he may have a part in a national [illegible] that stands on its own feet. There may be an occasional insurrectionist who knows enough history to understand that Americans once were insurrectionists. [illegible] Who knows.

Brothers Under the Skin

[illegible] politicians probably feel like laughing [illegible] their embarrassment when [illegible] Lincoln Steffens [illegible] the other day to tell the world that all Americans are Republicans even though many Democrats haven't realized it yet. [illegible] some of them know it. And [illegible] of the rest of them are [illegible] finding it out.

The National Farmer-Labor party convention which nominated General Coxey for vice president at Omaha the other day shoved under [illegible] a platform well calculated to tickle the Coxey toes—as slick a prosperity program as any fiscal scheme that has come to light since John Law's Mississippi Bubble busted.

The National Farmer-Labor party would do away with taxes and bond issues, would set up public ownership of banks so that any voter might borrow to his heart's content and would have the federal and state governments guarantee good wages to labor and good profits to agriculture.

The only thing the convention failed to do was to specify where the money was to come from. Lacking information to the contrary, we feel safe to assume that the convention picked a printing press for the party emblem.—Minneapolis Journal.

RULE BY THE MOB

The American people may be excused if they wonder whether the Democratic house of representatives is framing an economy bill or an expense bill. It is giving one of the worst exhibitions of mob government ever seen in the United States congress. Unfortunately, besides [illegible] at least the rules of the house [illegible] some years ago deprived conferees of the power to come to decisions of their own. In many cases and even should the senate—and [illegible] will itself also rewrite the tax and the [illegible] bills in such a manner as to indicate [illegible] intelligence, its proposals still must be [illegible] to mob vote in the house.

When any legislative body starts upon a program of overturning the work of its committees it rapidly degenerates into a leaderless [illegible] and this is exactly what the house with [illegible] partisan insurgent filings has [illegible]. It has supplied the most impressive lesson in the necessity of leadership and organization that could have been imagined, and has [illegible] stimulating a movement for [illegible] and responsible control of legislation even at the sacrifice of some of the individual rights of members who have so [illegible] them. Know About Your Liver

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

What do you know about your liver? You should know about it because the liver is one of the most important organs. It is located in the right side of the body just beneath the diaphragm and extends slightly to the left of the midline of the abdomen.

The liver is important in the maintenance of good health. We can not live without it. It neutralizes and removes toxins or poisons from the blood. All material which enters the blood from the stomach and intestines must pass through the liver before it can reach the general circulation.

The digestion of sugar in the body is influenced by the liver, which removes any excess of sugar from the blood and stores it in the form of glycogen, and when the body needs sugar the glycogen is again changed into sugar and released into the blood stream.

In addition the liver secretes bile, which aids in intestinal digestion and the absorption of fats. It is believed that this organ aids also in the making of red blood corpuscles and fibrinogen, an important blood element.

Fortunately the liver is a large organ and like other organs in the body is protected by factors of safety. These factors enable vital organs to carry on a large amount of their work even when they are diseased. Hence, while it is true that we can not live without the liver, when a considerable portion of the liver is damaged the remaining liver cells do the necessary work. This is seen in cases of tumors of the liver, abscesses of the liver and inflammations of the liver due to certain diseases.

Nature also has endowed the liver with great recuperative powers [illegible] this is of value in combatting certain disea[illegible].

Gallstones and inflammation of the gall bladder are intimately related with the liver because of the closeness of the gall bladder to the liver.

Though tremendous work has revealed our present knowledge, there still remain many unsolved mysteries concerning the liver. Unfortunately many diseases of the liver are still incurable, but it is to be hoped that as our knowledge increases we will be able to cure all of them.

Oberlin's Praying Company.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

Oberlin college treasures as one of the sacred memories of the institution the record of the first company organized there for service in the Civil war. Composed almost entirely of students, it was in command of G. W. Shurtleff, a tutor in the college, as its captain. There were a half dozen theological students. The rest were members of the regular college class, including six seniors, who were assured by the faculty that they would be graduated in June just as though they had remained.

On Thursday, April 25, 1861, the Oberlin company members left by train for Cleveland and all the town was at the station to see the departure. Professor Ellis made a speech to the soldiers. At Cleveland the company became Co. C of the Seventh O. V. I. and went almost directly from that place to Camp Dennison, Cincinnati, stopping one night enroute at Columbus, where they were quartered in the state house. Organized under the call for three months service, that period was ended before the regiment was thoroughly drilled, and under the new call for three years service the members almost to a man reenlisted for the longer service.

In camp the company was known as the Praying Company. The theologs were distributed among the messes of the company so that each mess had its chaplain, and daily prayer meetings were held in the company street. The name of [illegible] Mack, long editor of the Sandusky Register, appears on the lists. He reenlisted for the three year service, but the second year was mustered out for physical disability. Charles P. Griffin of Toledo, afterward a member of the legislature, was in the three months service of the company, but did not reenlist. A noted member was A. B. Nettleton, who [illegible] afterward noted as an editor, lawyer and railroad builder, and was for a time assistant secretary of the treasury. Mark S. Hopkins was the quartermaster sergeant. Erastus B. Tyler of Canton was the colonel of the regiment.

They included in all 179 men. The company marched 2,100 miles and traveled 4,800 more by train and boat. It was in 1[illegible] camps and in most of the principal battles of the war. Thirty one were killed in battle, seven died from disease and one private [illegible] fell into the Ohio river near Cincinnati while en route home at the end of the service and was drowned.

A Washington Daybook

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington, May 3.—President Hoover's most recent addition to his official family—Ogden Mills, successor to Uncle Andy Mellon as secretary of the treasury—has been demonstrating to Washington a new way to deal with senate committees.

Cabinet members have had quite a bit of difficulty in their appearances on the hill during this congress.

The debonair Pat Hurley, secretary of war, was so angered during hearings on the Philippine independence bill that he walked out, saying that he didn't have to put up with such treatment.

And Secretary Adams of the navy was so injured at an insinuation in the house naval affairs committee hearings that his voice showed evident emotion.

But none of them seem to have been able to get under Mills' skin. In fact, if the truth were known it's probably Mills who is getting under the senatorial skin.

* * *

The secretary has been making trips to the capitol lately to give the senate finance committee his counsel on the revenue bill which has been drafted to balance the budget.

On this committee, serving as the ranking Democrat, is Pat Harrison of Mississippi, a notorious baiter of Republicans. It was almost inevitable that so good a Republican as the secretary and so good a Democrat as Harrison would clash sooner or later.

And they did—in such fashion as to delight those who saw.

Harrison wanted Mills to submit an administration program for raising revenue. Mills replied that it had been done—to the ways and means committee of the house weeks ago—and hinted that the Mississippi senator was trying to play politics.

When Harrison kept [illegible] that a specific bill carrying out what you think should be enacted be given the committee, Mills looked at him and said with a laugh:

All right. I'll call it the Harrison bill.

* * *

All the time that he and the senator were spatting at each other Mills strode up and down along the committee table quietly amused. He would stop and light his cigar, stroll over to the window and look out. He would stick his thumbs in his vest pockets and smile broadly.

Mills declines to be irked by inquisitive members of congress on such occasions.

New York Day by Day.

New York, May 3.—There are many [illegible] for the declining popularity of the highly [illegible] penthouse, tipping skyscrapers. [illegible] first is a problem in economics and the [illegible] is the aura of scandal that has temporarily engulfed them.

The majority were and are eminently [illegible] abodes—fastidious, poised, high [illegible] air and far from the crowd. But recently occupants suffered from the high [illegible] escaped into sensational banners in [illegible] loids.

The penthouse became a symbol of [illegible] living from a flood of novels featuring penthouse crimes pastoral in a background of jazz and philanderings. Plays exploited the theme. Sordid movies. And the [illegible] became part of new papercse.

In the beginning the penthouse was a [illegible] shack to house scrubwomen and janitors, [illegible] the fashion of the plantation cabin or Mexican jacal. Some cramped city dweller saw the freedom of roof homes, and although he built a sky castle it retained the old name—penthouse.

Each new one expressed an increasing grandeur. Brooks slithered through [illegible] lawns. There were squash and tennis [illegible] artificial lakes and gurgling waterfalls [illegible] miniature splendor of a Long Island [illegible] often packed in small space.

The first of such magnificent aeries [illegible] in the canyons below Fulton down town were erected by Percy Rockefeller and H. L. Doherty. Earl Carroll followed [illegible] a garish Chinese bungalow in the [illegible] district. Conde Nast was first on the [illegible] Coast.

Today there are scores between the Bronx and Bowling Green, but many are [illegible] occupants have [illegible] expensive quarters. Of course rents will [illegible] in brighter days, for in many ways [illegible] the most desirable domiciles in the [illegible].

The [illegible] democracy of the time [illegible] the warming phenomena of a jaded town. Only recently a gracious hostess gave a luncheon for her [illegible] at her home on the [illegible] East Side. And among the guests [illegible] cocktail party was a bachelor's [illegible] student at the Sorbonne, who proved one of the most delightful conversationalists present.

* * *

A few years ago I motored to a home in the remote English countryside for a dinner party. The late Arnold Bennett was one of the distinguished guests, yet a distinct memory of that event was of a self-effacing valet who came to my rescue in knotting a dinner tie. He had for six years luxuriated in the despair of isolation in India with his master. A suppressed loneliness burst out in a five-minute flood of talk. It was the most interesting commentary on civilization I ever heard. Suddenly conscious of his garrulity he withdrew with an apologetic mumble. No brilliant at the dinner touched the narrative splendor of his monologue.

The head of a celebrated detective agency revealed to a few intimates recently that the passing of Enrico Caruso broke up one of the most amazing of kidnaping plots. A vessel had been actually chartered and the singer was to be abducted to sea and held for a million dollar ransom.

* * *

The passing of another Enrico deprived the city of seeing the world's most astonishing juggler this fall. He was Enrico Rastelli, belonging to the third generation of Italian jugglers who attracted stiff shirts, ermine and royalty—the elegants who turn out to see Nijinski or a Duse. The neatest of the current jugglers is appropriately named Serge Flash, a nimble young man whose act is a superb symphony in symmetry.

The neatest of the possessives came over the phone from a Jersey correspondent to a South street re-write man the other day. It ran thus: He struck the girl he was engaged to's brother.

But still the most hilarious mix up to me was the excited native of our town frightened by a rushing, barking dog who jittered to the owner: Call off your dog off or I'll knock off his head off.—Copyright 1932, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

Paris Stations Convenient

BY RALPH HEINZEN

United Press Staff Correspondent

Paris, May 3—In the old days a railway station was a shed to keep the rain off passengers while they waited for a train.

Today a railway station here is the [illegible] the voyage for many, for it has more attractions than a three-ring circus.

The oldest railway station on the Continent, the Gare St. Lazare here, is brighter than a music hall and you can have a better [illegible] there in these depression days than [illegible] in the deserted byways of Montmartre [illegible] Montparnasse.

In this unusual railway station you can:

Go to bed.

Have a tooth pulled.

Cash a check day or night.

Go to the movies and have a special [illegible] and tap you on your shoulder five minutes before your train leaves.

Buy a mousetrap, caviar, books, whisky.

Go shopping for exclusive gowns [illegible] monds, pearls and shoes.

Telephone to any point.

Have your hair waved, get a shoe shine.

Eat a 10-course meal or go to church.

In addition to that you can of course [illegible] train, but everything is organized [illegible] that to the minimum. The loud [illegible] both English and French so that even [illegible] can distinguish between the two. In the [illegible] movie theater, between films, a sl[illegible] on the screen says:

Dinner Stories

I hope you don't think I'm conceited [illegible] said after he had finished telling [illegible] himself.

Oh no, she replied. But I am [illegible] dering how you can keep from [illegible] cheers whenever you look at yourself [illegible] glass.

They were boasting about the cl[illegible] their dogs.

Why, said one man, only the [illegible] I dropped a shilling in the river and [illegible] of mire—

Now, now, old man, interrupted [illegible] you are going to tell me that the [illegible] in and fetched the shilling o[illegible]

No better than that; he dived [illegible] brought out sixpence worth of [illegible] pence change.

No, isn't it just killing the way she says Do tell instead of 'Oh yeah?'

There was a long dreadful pause. Georgie put out her cigarette. Presently she heard her own voice. It was shrill and a little roughened.

"It's bad luck, isn't it? On his wedding day."

Another pause. She forced herself to look up. The doctor's calculating, too familiar glance was wandering round the room taking in the new leather chair, the new phonograph, the elaborate radio.

"It's good of you to have bothered to look in." Her voice was still a little uneven but she spoke very slowly and carefully. "I'm extremely grateful and [illegible] wife will be grateful when he has got over the shock of hearing about Pete."

"His wife?" The doctor abandoned his scrutiny of the room. He too seemed to pull himself [illegible] carefully. "Then you are not Mrs. T[illegible]? I've made a mistake?"

Georgie moistened her lips.

"Yes. I've made a mistake. [illegible] said. I was [illegible] cousin—the other. Miss [illegible] that Eddie Townsend married."

"The young lady who went with him and me in the ambulance?"

Georgie nodded. Her lips felt very stiff. They were steadily smiling.

"I ought to have told you at once," she added, "but I thought it might be better if I were the first to hear any bad news there might be. Jenny is—well she's very inexperienced. Very easily alarmed."

She sat straighter on the big chair. Her voice was becoming more natural with every word. But she wished the man would not stare at her so keenly. He looked as though he were getting some[illegible] ap. Why should he, though? What were her affairs to him?

"Where is Mrs. Townsend? May I see her?"

"She's not here [illegible] now. She's at the hotel where—where she expects Eddie to join her tomorrow." She gave the new [illegible] a little push with her toe. Then she got up slowly. "I was [illegible] putting the finishing touches to this apartment but I suppose—I wonder—when will Eddie be able to leave the hospital?"

"You'd have to talk to Dalling about that but I don't imagine he'll see any sense in keeping the poor chap there for long. It's not a suitable place for a nerve case, you see, anyway." He hesitated and again Georgie's intuition warned her of a trap being prepared. "By the way," he went on, "is your cousin's marriage to Townsend a secret?"

"Why should it be?"

"Because while we were waiting on that ambulance I was wondering idly whether either of you were married and I noticed that your cousin wasn't wearing a wedding ring. Doctors do notice such things, you know. I'll push off now, Miss Revell, and tell Mrs Townsend how I wish I could have brought better news. Don't trouble to see me out. Goodby."

The door had shut behind him before Georgie thought of saying "Goodbye."

She raised her left hand as though it belonged to some one else and looked at it. The ring was locked away in her new dressing table now. She had taken it off—when? She couldn't remember. She had a recollection of putting it for safe keeping in her bag. And sure[illegible] at the time of the accident she had been wearing gloves. Or—or had she taken them off when she and this doctor man tore her silk cape into strips to bandage Eddie's head? Doctors do notice these things you know.

Furious indignation mounted in her. The cad coming here to spy on her and bait her—and walking off without even telling her his beastly name!

Deliberately she whipped up her anger. So long as she was angry she could pretend that she was not afraid. She could keep fear at the back of her mind.

The anger fell from her. Better face things. She would not at 28 have been private secretary to Gratton Matching at a salary of five thousand a year if she hadn't always faced things.

Eddie's marriage was public knowledge. It was reported in the [illegible] The Old Man read the Record always at the papers would have it on [illegible]

Ministerial Association Votes for Free Night at Chautauqua

The points to be weighed in choosing between a state supported college and a church college were presented to members of the Marion County Ministerial Association in an address yesterday by Dr Charles E. Miller, president of Heidelberg college at Tiffin. The meeting was held at city library.

The Christian college was his subject and he showed the differences between the two schools, state and church, from all angles of consideration.

The personality, spirit and life of the teacher is more to be considered than the equipment and buildings when selecting a college for a boy or girl, he said.

Twenty-two ministers joined in a round table discussion following Dr Miller's talk.

Chautauqua season was discussed and the ministers voted unanimously to make the Sunday night program free to the public, an innovation in the Chautauqua season.

Dr F. T. Johnson of Delaware will address the association on Russia in two weeks.

Madge Has Premonitions of Evil When the Telephone Rings

THE query as to whether Dicky [illegible] Chew gave me the letter from Hugh Grantland joined the one which had been running in my brain since the night of the party as to whether he had kissed Lillian upon the moonlit veranda. I wasn't mulling over them for some time although the quizzical sardonic glance which Dicky gave me during the next few days made me quite sure that he had seen [illegible] how handled the letter.

I found it to be a most innocuous document [illegible] when I finally got the chance to read it which did not come until several hours after we were settled in the [illegible] Country Park. I wanted to be free from interruption when I read it and it was not until Dicky and Harry had gone out for a stroll after dinner that I pleaded a real but slight headache to Mary and Lillian as a pretext for going into my own bedroom and locking the door.

The Letter from Grantland

The letter [illegible] bore no salutation and no signature save the initial H.

"There are few developments to report. It is known Samuel Brixton is still at his camp which he has left only to take his stepdaughter to White Hall and his stepson back to Yale. Charles Owen left the camp ostensibly for Philadelphia, two days after he left your home. I am in that city now—of course not in the same hotel for it is not desirable that he should know I am here—but I am keeping track of him.

For the most part he stays in his room sometimes for days at a time, having his meals sent up, and his only excursions from the hotel are visits to the theater at night and occasionally to a private airport in the daytime. These things I have discovered through a judicious expenditure of money.

"So far I have found nothing whatever in his actions to arouse suspicion but the hotel in which he is staying is a queer place, although I can find nothing definite against it. I shall not leave the city however until he does, and I have a trusted man watching Samuel Brixton's movements. Will advise you of any future developments.—H."

I read the letter through several times until I had committed it to memory, then I tore it into [illegible] that the attack upon the [illegible] which would be in earnest this time and not something planned solely to intimidate us as was the other. Such a venture would take long preparation and I did not believe he would attempt anything like that until some time after we had left the farm.

There was [illegible] wait however and I knew [illegible] I felt much safer with the knowledge that Hugh was [illegible]. With that knowledge and [illegible] always in my [illegible] Philadelphia [illegible] that Hugh had enclosed in the letter [illegible] to use in case of emergency, I plunged into the whirl of preparation for the production of my play on which Philip Veritzen had started.

I knew that he wished to complete the production of the play as soon as possible but from his deliberation in selecting the cast one would have thought that he had an eternity in which to prepare for the premiere.

He was most flattering in his deference to my opinion consulting me upon every point. I was in full sympathy with his captiousness concerning the filling of the roles for I knew that if the people taking them did not look the parts, as well as act them the quality of the production would be distinctly impaired.

A Fascinating World

But there came a day at last when all the roles were filled and rehearsals began. Mr Veritzen insisted that I be present at every rehearsal but I think I should have begged for the privilege of attending them even if he had tried to bar me from them.

I was [illegible] fascinating world [illegible]

[illegible] Mrs Arlen and [illegible] western [illegible] formal [illegible] that evening [illegible] fall

A Premonition

I [illegible] Mary [illegible] in love with each [illegible] and Philip [illegible] busy with the [illegible] Alan [illegible]

It was at the [illegible] rehearsal that Harry [illegible] were sitting in the [illegible] of our suite [illegible] telephone [illegible] and Harry [illegible] always was [illegible] flash [illegible] Lillian and then [illegible]

I [illegible] myself shaking as with a chill for there came to me in that moment the conviction that in that unrevealed telephone message lay justification for all the premonitions of evil which almost invariably come to me when I hear the sound of the telephone.

Avoid Offending—underthings absorb perspiration odor. Protect daintiness this way:

1 Wash this 4 minute way. One tablespoon of Lux does one day's undies [illegible], stockings, too! Use lukewarm water—Lux dissolves instantly in it. Squeeze suds through fabric, rinse twice.

2 Wash after each wearing for perspiration acids left in silk fade colors and rot threads. Lux removes perspiration acids and odors completely—leaves colors and fabrics like new.

3 Never rub dainty lingerie with cake soap. Rubbing tends to streak and wear out silk.

4 Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens threads, fades color. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux.

Cleveland Beats Browns and Moves Into Second Place

INDIANS CHIEF HOPE OF WEST TO BREAK MONOPOLY OF EAST

Senators Hop on Lefty Gomez To Pound Out 10-3 Decision

By The Associated Press

With the year's first Intersectional warfare only two days away the Cleveland Indians again shape up as the west's best bet to break into the eastern cities' monopoly on American league laurels.

Roger Peckinpaugh's Tribe was running a strong second today, only one game behind the Washington Senators after winning nine straight against western opposition. Detroit in fourth place also will invade the seaboard in an excellent position.

Two big innings that netted all their runs gave the Tigers a 6 to 5 victory over the St. Louis Browns yesterday.

The leading Senators handed Vernon (Lefty) Gomez his first reverse of the year in slugging out a 10 to 3 decision over the Yankees. Joe Cronin led the way with a home run, a double and a triple.

Jimmy Foxx's home run in the eleventh inning broke up a mound duel and gave the Athletics a 3 to 2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. Lefty Grove, third Athletic hurler, was credited with the win.

Sad Sam Jones collapsed after allowing only four hits in eight innings; the Detroit Tigers scored five runs in the ninth and beat out Chicago 5 to 3.

National league fans were treated to a pair of superb pitching performances by Sylvester Johnson of St. Louis and Steve Swetonic of Pittsburgh. Swetonic allowed only three hits in blanking the slapping Chicago Cubs 2 to 0, while Johnson let the Cincinnati Reds down with four to win 2 to 1.

Jimmy Collins' sixth home run of the year in the fourth inning with Sparky Adams on base enabled Johnson to get the better of a tight slab duel with Si Johnson of the Reds.

All three blows off Swetonic were singles and only one Cub reached second base.

Dazzy Vance's tight pitching and Glenn Wright's timely hitting gave the Dodgers a 3 to 1 victory over the Giants. Wright tripled with two on in the eighth to break a deadlock.

The Phillies went on another hitting rampage behind Ed Holley's seven-hit pitching to subdue the league leading Boston Braves 7 to 2.

MARION GUN CLUB SHOOTS WEDNESDAY

A registered shoot which is expected to attract marksmen from all over the state will be held Wednesday by the Marion gun club. The shoot will commence at noon on the club's grounds east of the Shrock schoolhouse on the Richland pike.

Prizes will be given for high scores. The public is invited to attend.

Caledonia Wins, 7-1.

Caledonia defeated Pleasant township Sunday afternoon in a Heart of Ohio league game. The final score was 7-1. Curtis, pitching for the winners, struck out 23 men and allowed three hits. Humbelton of Pleasant struck out 10 batters and allowed nine hits.

MARION COPS SHARE OF INTER-CITY PIN TOURNEY AWARDS

City Will Be Host to Bowling Meet Early Next Year.

Marion bowlers walked off with a fair share of the honors in the Inter-city bowling tourney at Findlay recently, the official tournament prize list reveals. Besides capturing many of the prizes in the 1932 meet Marion was awarded the 1933 tournament to be held at the Recreation alleys sometime in March or April of next year. Definite dates have not been set.

The Markert & Lewis quintet from Marion turned in the best performance of any of the five local teams entered in the meet. The haberdashery five scattered the pins for a total of 2,855 for three games to finish in third place, trailing representatives of Lorain and Findlay. The Marion team received $[illegible] for finishing in third place.

Other Marion winners, their divisions and prizes they won follow:

High single game: Markert & Lewis 1,011, $10. Doubles: [illegible] and Sam Shatrock 1,090 ([illegible] place) $6. Singles: A. Yazel 601 (24th) $8; J. Dugan 5[illegible] (28th) $7; H. Whipps 583 (33rd) $[illegible]; [illegible] McGill 582 (43rd) $5; W. Valentine 573 (53rd) $4, and G. Thomas 571 (58th) $3.

The Inter-city tourney to be held here next spring is expected to bring approximately 400 bowlers to Marion over a three or four weeks period. It will be the first time since the event was inaugurated in 1926 that it has been held on Marion alleys. Marion was awarded the tourney in preference to Fremont, the only other city bidding for the 1933 event. About [illegible] out of town teams are expected to take part. Inasmuch as the tourney will not be held for another 12 months definite plans have not been made for the affair.

Reformed, U.B. Clubs Have Visions of Brighter Days

Note: This is the twelfth of a series of stories concerning the prospects of the various softball teams of Marion for this season.

• • •

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

Two teams that have finished well down the list of the [illegible] Sunday school league for the last several seasons have hopes of pounding their way into more select company before the 1932 campaign is completed. The United Brethren and First Reformed teams are the two. The managers of neither will hazard the prediction that his proteges will ascend the heights of the championship pinnacle, but both are hopeful they can direct them clear to first division berths. The United Brethren finished in sixth and Reformed in seventh last season.

Dick Tuttle is managing the U. B. team this year and John Hoffman will again be at the helm of Reformed.

Whether either of the teams will be able to overcome the numerous obstacles which beset the pathway leading to the first division is problematical. Certain it is that each will be forced to fight against terrific opposition as almost every team in the circuit appears stronger this season.

U. B. Changes Little

The United Brethren nine will depend for the most part on improvement in the play of the same group which played last season to provide the added strength necessary to get into the select company. One new man has apparently cinched a berth at shortstop, but aside from the one change, you can recall last year's lineup and have most of the starting lineup for this year.

Chuck Nettle and Harold Price will do the backstopping, with Dutch Zuspan and Walter Corrigan slated for the mound work. Zuspan will probably start most of the games.

The Lemine brothers, Ray and Earl, are fighting it out for the first base post. Dick Tuttle probably will get the call as the starter until the opening game next Monday. Ray Vanderhoff will be at second, Russell Roush, the new comer, at short and Marion Vanderhoff at third.

[illegible] Tuttle will be in left, Dick Tuttle in center and probably Russ Fowler or Bob Aller in right. Several others are also battling for outfield berths. The [illegible] heavy hitting will come from the outfield. The Tuttle brothers in particular pack a wallop at the plate that is poison to any opposition.

Will Juggle Lineup

John Hoffman will juggle his 1931 Reformed lineup considerably for the 1932 campaign. The principal difficulty of Reformed in former seasons has been the tendency to go along for about five innings in great style and then do a sudden blow-up that turns possible victory into certain defeat in less time than it takes to write about it. This [illegible] Hoffman hopes to overcome that fault with some changes in the lineup.

Hoffman is not at all certain right now just who can be classed as regulars. There are a few of course who are certain to play, but where these few will be posted is indefinite. Dale Schwaderer, last season's prize rookie, is slated for the mound work with LeRoy Klingel the second choice. Schwaderer is one of the best pitchers in the city and Klingel has shown considerable improvement this season. Al Pfaltzgraf will be behind the bat if present indications work out.

Fred Schultz will probably be at first and Fred Weber at second. LeRoy Klingel is slated for third when he is not pitching with either Harry McFarland or W. Cressap at short.

N. Klingel is almost a cinch for an outfield berth. John Coleman will probably get another fly chasing post. Pete Howison will have a place when he returns from college, but until then LeRoy Myers appears likely to do some patrol work in the wide open spaces. The above lineup Hoffman insists is tentative and may be juggled plenty before the umpire calls "Play ball" next Monday.

Morral opened its quest for the championship of the newly organized Heart of Ohio league Sunday afternoon on the home field by trouncing Delaware to the tune of a 19-2 score. The winners nicked Gaulkens, Delaware hurler, for 15 hits but seven errors added several runs to the Morral total. McIntire pitched the game for Morral.

MONTGOMERY LOSES ROUGH MAT BOUT TO COLUMBUS BATTLER

Davis Ends Match at Sensational with Whirlwind Finish; Simms Wins.

Karl Davis, that husky chap from Columbus who has become a favorite with Marion fans, has developed a new song that gets some big hand—"There's murder in my [illegible]."

It takes a lot to make Davis [illegible] that number, but when he [illegible] a swan song for his opponent [illegible] last night at the Steam Shovel gym when he defeated Bob Montgomery, the rough and tumble blond Texan.

The Texan was just as mean until Davis put on his taming act. Montgomery won the first fall in 22 minutes [illegible] of body slams that battered [illegible] out of Davis for a few minutes.

It took just six minutes [illegible] to win the match. Karl went on the warpath and tossed Montgomery through the ropes. The Texan tried to get back into the ring [illegible] to get thrown out into the [illegible] third time was enough and [illegible] the count. In fact he had [illegible] in his senses when time was called for the third and last fall.

Fans were given a taste of [illegible] in the semi-final when Harold Simms, the Indianapolis welter flash, won the referee's decision over Claude Swindell of Columbus.

Simms is one of the fastest men ever seen in action on the local ropes. He had Swindell up a tree the entire match. Simms won the first fall in 35 minutes with an arm stretch. The remaining 10 minutes was without a fall.

In the preliminary Ray Dixon pinned Bob Blake in seven minutes.
